

TWO PLACES IN VALLEY RAIDED

Soldiers and Women Are Found at Franklin Tavern and White House.

Operatives engaged by the committee of 15, assisted by sheriff deputies and a squad of military police from Fort Bliss, raided two valley road places Sunday night, the Franklin Tavern and the White House. The object being merely to clean up the proprietors were not arrested in either case.

At the Franklin, four women and six soldiers were found, and at the White House, the officers reported there were four women and 12 soldiers. The soldiers were taken in charge by the military police, while the women were taken in charge by the civil officers. No charges had been made in the cases Monday, but it was said that a number of the women taken were going through the government clinic at the court house.

Saturday night the officers arrested A. C. Walker, driving a car in the upper valley. The officers reported there were six soldier passengers, and that the car contained two dozen bottles of beer, in two racks, one being covered with ice. Walker was held for investigation.

'THE VERY IDEA' IS REAL THING

Teal's Newest Show Is the Best He Has Presented in El Paso.

Raymond Teal and his supporting company, including the Ducklings, have presented some excellent musical and comedy entertainments since their recent return to the Crawford theatre, but none have equalled their newest offering, "The Very Idea," which was staged for the first time Sunday matinee and night.

This production, recently given its first staging in New York, is brim full of wit and sprinkled with happy song hits. The scenery is elaborate, the second act calling for a two story setting representing a roadhouse that is a real tribute to the art of the stage carpenter and the scenic artist.

There is considerable plot to the story, dealing with two young lawyers, who have jealous wives, who, innocently attempting to help a couple of friends out of trouble—on partner assisting the wife of the man the other partner is helping—get into a peck of it themselves. The entire party is arrested at the roadhouse in true Seth Orndoff and Bill Feyer style and the last act necessarily occurs in the office of a justice of the peace, where one of the lawyer victims, after securing his own release, sits in judgment upon his own wife and the wife of his partner. The opportunities for funny situations are numerous, of course, and the author of the piece takes advantage of them to a nicety.

The whole company from Raymond Teal down to one of the attractive ducklings, Miss Cecil Chaney, have good parts. Lew Fields and Orville Harris are the two lawyers, with Miss Pansy DeLacour, who as the jealous wife of a young business man (Homer Long) and Miss Corinne Campbell, the roadhouse hostess with a slinky conversation and a shady past.

Take most of the fun, Miss Madeline Lee and Miss Hazel Lake as the two jealous wives and Homer Long as the innocent, though suspected husband, contribute their share, as usual, to the success of the play. Miss DeLacour grows really artistic in her presentation of the drunken scene—artistic because she does it so that it is not in the least offensive, yet affords many a hilarious laugh and as many chuckles as usual.

Everybody sang a good song or two and the ducklings danced with their usual spirit and grace. G. A. M.

THE REDMOND FOLLIES
COMING TO CRAWFORD

Opening with the matinee performance Sunday afternoon August 18, the Ed. Redmond Musical Comedy company will succeed the Raymond Teal company at the Crawford, presenting as the first of its series of musical successes the musical comedy, "Over the Garden Wall."

Comedian Ed. Redmond heads the cast of 25 musical comedy players. The stage novelties, and the dazzling lighting effects, the usual theatrical equipment, being well equipped with, and in its stead a battery of high powered electric lights.

Nobody contributed more, however, than Art Phillips, who painted the scenery.

Everybody sang a good song or two and the ducklings danced with their usual spirit and grace. G. A. M.

El Paso Lad With Engineers In France

CORP. ARTHUR VAN HASELEN, an El Paso boy, former letter carrier here, now in France, wrote to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Van Haselen, that he is the proud possessor of a service stripe. He enlisted the 20th of September in the 51st engineers at Washington, D. C., and arrived in France about the 29th. He is "coming over" and says he now receives "the dear old home paper," The Herald regularly.

Corp. Van Haselen enlisted in September with the 51st engineers and was in training at Washington, D. C., for three months. He has been in France with the engineers eight months, and now is transferred to the general postoffice association in Paris.

With another battery of "baby apes" being employed to light up the artists' faces, combined with the feature "Jazz" instrumentation, gives the Redmond production a distinctive air that is rarely found," said manager E. F. Maxwell.

TEAL IS GOING TO ANTIPODES

May Make Oriental Tour Again; Leaves El Paso Next Sunday Morning.

Raymond Teal and his ducklings and scene painters "ever"thing will soon shake the soil of continental United States from the soles of their dancing pumps and head across the briny waters for the antipodes, their tour carrying them, perhaps, back to the continent before El Paso again sees them.

Several years ago the Teal company toured Hawaii, China and Japan, being absent from the United States more than a year, stopping for a second run in Hawaii on the way back.

When the company leaves El Paso next Sunday morning, it will be with the intention—unless plans are later changed—of visiting at least Hawaii and Australia before returning here. Thursday, Friday and Saturday they will present as a farewell offering "The Bird Man," a play which, it is said, may be about for a year or more.

FIND STAMP ASSOCIATES ARE STEADILY SECURING BUYERS

Receipts at the war savings stamps headquarters in the First National bank were only $20,000 last week, but will probably take a forward step this week, with the return of secretary Mrs. A. S. Peatross, of the woman's section, who has been at Cloudcroft, N. M., on vacation.

The office force has been checking up neighborhood and business societies and finds 98 percent are above the quotas originally set as the mark of their best efforts.

All the larger societies are making good and the largest increases are in the societies organized in different departments of big corporations. The El Paso mail order works recently raised the pay of some employees, which resulted in a great increase of weekly and monthly investments in war stamps by the force.

SPLENDID FILM AT THE WIGWAM

"We Can't Have Everything" Described by All as Being Remarkable.

Cecil De Mille has never yet produced a poor picture and his "We Can't Have Everything" is described by his press agent and the critics alike as being remarkable. The picture was taken from the novel of Rupert Hughes, America's most popular fiction writer. It deals with life as it is found today and touches upon the divorce question. The introduction of scenes during the actual taking of a big production are one of the novelties and the burning of Jesse Lasky's studios makes one of the spectacular incidents.

The cast is certainly remarkable and few pictures can boast of a better balanced or a stronger one. Look at these names: Kathleen Williams, Elliott Dexter, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts, Raymond Hatton, Tully Marshall, Sylvia Bremer and Charles Ogle. Don't you remember having seen nearly every one as the star in some big production?

Those who saw "The Woman Who Forgot," "Joan the Woman," "Old Wives for New" and other Cecil De Mille productions will readily admit that it is in store for them. Remember the engagement is for today and tomorrow only at the Wigwam.—Adv.

GRICIAN—MADGE KENNEDY.
Madge Kennedy will be seen at the Grecian today only in a society comedy that is exceedingly clever and decidedly classy, "Friend Husband."

In this amusing picture Madge is seen as a girl who wants to get married but who doesn't want a husband. A rather peculiar situation, you say? Well, that isn't a starter to what really happens to this gay young adventurer. The picture is full of fun in this delightful picture, and it is presented in an atmosphere of elegance and refinement that is a real pleasure to the eye and a relief to the weary brain.

Tomorrow the Grecian offers a double bill of more than ordinary importance. The feature of the day is "The Price of Applause," being a very unusual story of the great war. As an extra added attraction for tomorrow the Grecian will present the first picture showing Paris, France, celebrating Fourth of July. This film shows, among the many interesting things, the American boys on their triumph march on the Avenue du President Wilson carrying the shell-ton banner that had been through the victorious battle at Chateau-Thierry.—Adv.

ALHAMBRA—NORMA TALMADGE.
Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien offer entertainment today of the highest type. Norma Talmadge, shown in their latest Select picture, "The Safety Curtain," it tells the story of a girl (Norma Talmadge), a dancer in a cheap music hall in London, who is suddenly transplanted into army life as a nurse.

The photographic accomplishments in this picture are most unusual. The scene you see is a fine pan in a theater. In another you see a plague scene in India in a third a fashionable scene in India among the Simla hills. It is an emotional success for Norma Talmadge that is on the same high plane as she showed in her recent Select picture, "The Love of a Soldier." "By Right of Purchase" and "Ghosts of Yesterday"—in fact "The Safety Curtain" ranks above its predecessors. See this picture today.—Adv.

WILLIAM FARNUM, BIJOU.
One of the most attractive photographs the Bijou theater has ever had, is announced for two days, beginning tomorrow when William Farnum, new de luxe production, "Rough and Ready," takes the screen.

"Rough and Ready" is certain to score the instantaneous success which greets every photograph in which the masterly William Farnum appears. The picture also is a notable one for the splendid company of artists supporting Mr. Farnum; for the admirable direction by Richard Stanton, one of the best directors in filmdom; for the beauty of the superb snow-capped landscapes of the Northland; and for the extraordinarily fine photography of the subject.—Adv.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN IN NEW ONE.

The Unique packed them in all day yesterday to see Charlie Chaplin in his new comedy, entitled "Triple Trouble." This is the first new comedy Chaplin has appeared in for a long time and it will be shown today and tomorrow. It is a sure thing to see now to see it before the engagement terminates.

The Allied Official War Review will also be on today's program.—Adv.

CLAIMS VISITOR ROBS HIM, AT PISTOL POINT, OF $70

M. B. Mulhollen, 905 Mesa avenue, reported to the police that he was held up and robbed in his own room Sunday night about 11 o'clock by a man whom he had seen several times and regarded as a friend.

It was alleged that Mulhollen invited the man to his room to show him some books on wireless telegraphy, in which the visitor claimed to be interested, and while there also showed him a .38 caliber revolver.
